JOINT STATUS REPORT

Cumberland Communities Communications Corporation ("Cumberland") and Moody Bible Institute of Chicago ("Moody"), by counsel, hereby respectfully submit their Joint Status Report relative to a definitive settlement agreement and motion for its acceptance, in accordance with the directive of the presiding officer. See, Order, FCC 94M-365, released May 25, 1994.

1. In accordance with the representations of the parties at the Prehearing Conference held on May 24, 1994, Cumberland and Moody have formulated a settlement in the proceeding that will allow for the grant of both applications. The parties have agreed to each pay one-half of the cost of the preparation of an engineering amendment to Cumberland's application which will remove the exclusivity between the applications of the parties by means of a directional antenna proposal. In that regard, Cumberland's engineer, having returned from travel abroad on June 10, 1994, was faced with a number of "crises" which required his immediate attention until now when he has been able to devote his attention to the preparation of such an amendment. Upon completion of the amendment, the undersigned counsel for Cumberland shall promptly forward a copy thereof to counsel for the Mass Media Bureau for review and approval as to grantability. Cumberland's consulting engineer has also confirmed the costs associated with preparing such an amendment, which have been found acceptable by both Cumberland and Moody.

2. A definitive settlement agreement, motion for acceptance thereof, and related declarations as required by § 73.3525 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations are now being prepared in conjunction with the above-described engineering amendment. The parties anticipate that the entire package will be ready for filing on or before July 8, 1994.

Dated this 27th day of June, 1994.

Respectfully Submitted,
